PARKS AND WILDLIFE FOUNDATION

2018-2020 ANNUAL REPORT

Dear Friends,

I present to you a combined annual report for fiscal years 2018, 2019 and 2020. While the SD Parks and Wildlife Foundation has overcome many changes in the last few years, we continue to be successful in our mission to solicit and encourage private and public support for outdoor recreational activities. On behalf of my fellow South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation Board members, I encourage your continued interest and support of this worthy nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. The Foundation's partnership with South Dakota Department of Game Fish and Parks has never been stronger and as you read this report, you will see that the Foundation's activities continue to be a valuable asset to the Department. We strive to enable every South Dakota citizen to share the outdoor experience.

During this past year's extraordinary health crisis, you've probably noticed that parks and other outdoor recreational assets are filled with children, families and adults of every age discovering safety and fun in South Dakota's wonderful park system.

As you read the annual report, you will find that despite current challenges the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation actively seeks to attract gifts of money, land and other resources to grow GFP's ability to enhance outdoor recreational opportunities. Past donations have included land, conservation easements, and cash for nearly 50 projects. The geologically fascinating Palisades State Park is increasing by 267.5 acres thanks to the fundraising efforts of the Foundation, which allows for 75 additional camp sites and over 3 new miles of hiking trails. This is proof that generous giving makes dreams a reality. We were also instrumental in the fundraising for the new Good Earth State Park Visitors Center. If you have not visited these state parks, it needs to be on your future agenda.

If you've ever hiked, hunted, fished, camped, picnicked, rock climbed or even just marveled while watching another serene South Dakota sunset, you know and understand the extraordinary gift parks are for everyone who calls South Dakota home.

On behalf of the Board of Directors and staff of the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation we share your love and appreciation for these wonderful and varied resources and will continue the work on enhancing and developing such wonderful outdoor recreational areas for everyone to enjoy. We thank you for your support!

Karen Gudersen-Olson
President

Dear Friends,

The South Dakota Department of Game, Fish and Parks has had a long-lasting, quality relationship with the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation for decades. The Foundation is an invaluable partner that has turned dreams into reality. Great projects are rooted in strong relationships among individuals, organizations and groups who share a common vision.

Good Earth State Park at Blood Run is a recent example of how a community of supporters for outdoor recreation and preservation have worked together to create South Dakota's most recent state park in over 40 years. With over $8 million in fundraising, the Department of Game, Fish and Parks was able to secure nearly 600 acres of beautiful and historically significant land that is an epicenter for outdoor learning and nature appreciation for the whole region. Park visitation continues to grow, and interest in its heritage is shared by multiple generations. Most of all, this tremendous resource was preserved in perpetuity through the generosity of contributors, and the hard work of the Foundation.

The Visitor Center at Custer State Park is another example of how a need was met through the timely donations and work of the Foundation. While the Legislature, the Governor, and the Department of Game, Fish and Parks all saw a fantastic opportunity for a world class facility in Custer State Park to help orientate and guide visitors to all the attractions in the park, it was the Foundation that helped provide over $3 million to ensure this facility was second to none.

More recently, Palisades State Park was experiencing symptoms of overuse and crowding. This amazing park was less than 160 acres, and there simply was not enough land to accommodate the people that wanted to experience the scenery and natural beauty of the park. When an opportunity came up that would allow the park to expand over twice its original size, it was the quick action of the Foundation that allowed plans to begin in 2019 to greatly expand and diversify the outdoor recreational opportunities at the park.

The role of the Foundation is as great now as it has been in the past as participation in outdoor recreation continues to grow. The department remains a committed partner to the Foundation to strengthen relationships with people that share their passion for the outdoors and wish to see a way of life preserved for future generations.

Sincerely,

Kevin Robling
Game, Fish and Parks Interim Secretary

HISTORY OF THE SOUTH DAKOTA PARKS AND WILDLIFE FOUNDATION

The South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation, registered in South Dakota. It was incorporated in 1985 for the purpose of working with donors to develop and enhance wildlife habitat, parks and recreation activities in partnership with the South Dakota Department of Game, Fish and Parks. The vision of the Foundation is to bring together private resources and South Dakota Game, Fish, and Parks to preserve and expand outdoor recreational opportunities.

The mission of the organization is to enhance outdoor recreation for future generations and preserve our parks and wildlife.

The Foundation is governed by a board of directors comprised of 15 members and two ex-officio members that have full voting rights. An Executive Director, employed by the Game, Fish and Parks Department, provides administrative services and oversight of the Foundation.

IN MEMORY OF SUE BROWN

A brilliant combination of vision and practical know-how enabled Sue Brown to serve more than a dozen years as one of two Development Directors for South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation. Brown's writing, both prose and expository, captured South Dakota's extraordinary natural resource assets in language that moved and motivated South Dakotans from across the state to support park facilities and enrich outdoor education services. She did so modestly generally deferring publicly to Dick Brown, her business associate and spouse. She was a good and perceptive listener. Speakers knew their message was understood and valued.

Sue Brown's growing up years were filled with leadership and scholastic recognition. She was a cum laude college graduate. She served on important community organizations in Sioux Falls, including two terms on the Sioux Falls School Board. A tireless community builder, she served as President and CEO of the Sioux Falls Area Community Foundation. Former SD Governor Dennis Daugaard remembers "Sue combined a thoughtful, steady hand with great vision and strong work ethic to lead the Foundation to great success. On top of it all she was a good friend with a big heart." She brought compassionate devotion to her every endeavor. She was inducted into the South Dakota Hall of Fame in 2008.

Never afraid of a challenge, Brown started several successful businesses over her lifetime. The most recent of which was Brown Associates, which brought she and Dick to the challenging work of South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation, a nonprofit organization supporting the South Dakota Department of Game Fish & Parks. Brown Associates played a key role in bringing millions of dollars and land to the creative benefit of such masterful projects as the new Good Earth State Park at Blood Run southeast of Sioux Falls, the Outdoor Campus West educational center in Rapid City, the amazing Custer State Park Visitor Center, the Peter Norbeck Outdoor Education Center, Mickelson Trail bridge enhancements in the Black Hills, and growing the needed land assets of Palisades State Park, which will significantly expand outdoor education and camping in this geologically unique southeastern South Dakota area.

In addition to this public activity, Sue Brown has always found time for her second great love . . . family and friends. Sue and Dick moved to Custer, South Dakota to be near their family.

Those of us on the Board of the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation will miss her ready smile, her kind but courageous way of speaking on behalf of important South Dakota issues. We thank her for her dedication, candor and years of passionate service growing South Dakota's Parks, which in turn make South Dakota a great place to work and play.

SUE BROWN OBITUARY

Sue Brown, age 74, passed away peacefully with family by her side at her scenic Rocky Road home in the beautiful Black Hills of South Dakota on May 10, 2020 from metastatic breast cancer.

Sandra Sue Zimmerman was born July 13, 1945, in Fort Bragg, North Carolina to Dr. Gifford and Carol Mathwig Zimmerman. After Giff was discharged from the Army, the family moved to the Zimmerman's hometown in Geneseo, Illinois. Sue graduated from Geneseo High School in 1963 and cum laude from Lawrence University in Appleton, Wisconsin in 1967. At Lawrence, Sue was a member of Delta Gamma, Mortar Board Senior Honor Society for scholarship, leadership, and service, and many other organizations and activities. Family friend and fellow Geneseo native Bill Farber of the University of South Dakota introduced Sue to Richard E. "Dick" Brown on New Year's Eve in 1965 and the couple were married June 17, 1967.

The first five years of Sue's married life were spent in Washington, D. C. where she served for a year as legislative secretary for a Republican Congressman Tom Railsback of Illinois and then began a management career as a housing specialist with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. When the couple moved to Omaha, Sue served as a Community Development Specialist, managing federal projects in Iowa.

The family moved to Sioux Falls in 1979, where Sue established a research and community development consulting business. She served on the Boards of many nonprofit organizations in the fields of education, housing, and women's issues including the Sioux Falls Housing and Redevelopment Commission, South Dakota Housing Development Authority, YWCA, Habitat for Humanity, United Way and Volunteers of America. She also served on the Boards of the Sioux Falls Area Chamber of Commerce and Downtown Rotary. She served two terms on the Sioux Falls School Board, worked as a financial services representative for her husband's business and became President/CEO the Sioux Falls Area Community Foundation in 1995. She retired from that position in 2006. She considered her work to increase the charitable assets of the region the community's best job other than being a mom and grandmother. She was honored as Friend of the Foundation in 2018. Both the School Board and Community Foundation were works that matched Sue's passions, and she considered these opportunities two of the turning points in her life.

PARKS VISITATION

In 2020, the park system had approximately 7.2 million visitations. The systems 4,400+ campsites, 225 cabins, and 7 group lodges saw over 358,000 user nights.

In 2020, over 137,000 annual park entrance licenses were purchased along with more than 340,000 temporary park entrance licenses.

In 2020, camping permits and park entrance licenses generated $22.2 million, all of which was deposited into the parks and recreation fund for ongoing operations and maintenance of state park areas.

In 2020, 77% of reviewers rated their camping experience as an "A" with 43 out of 48 areas receiving the top rating. The feedback allows future customers to see what people are saying about the parks, as well as help park managers identify areas that may need improving.

CUSTER STATE PARK BISON CENTER

The South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation, (SDPWF) is leading a private-public fundraising campaign in partnership with South Dakota Game, Fish and Parks (GFP) to construct the Custer State Park Bison Center. The Center will educate visitors through dynamic interpretive displays and tell the origin story of the park's bison, herd management and the annual Buffalo Roundup and auction.

The center will be located near the corral complex, and there is no better place to tell the story of the park's bison. The free roaming herd of 1,400 bison at Custer State Park is one of the world's largest publicly owned bison herds and a key feature of the park experience. The Bison Center will give the park the ability to tell more of that enriched story of the bison herd and will give visitors the opportunity to dive deeper and learn more about the country's national mammal.

The Leona M. and Harry B. Helmsley Charitable Trust has awarded a $4 million grant to the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation to construct the Custer State Park Bison Center. The grant funds will be put to immediate use, extending over a two-year period and puts the SDPWF in a position to leverage an additional $1 million in private and public donations for the total project budget of $5 million. The center is set to open in the spring of 2022.

"Custer State Park is known worldwide for its scenery, wildlife and outdoor recreation. The opening of the Custer State Park Bison Center will provide visitors a landmark destination to learn about and understand Custer State Park's role in preserving the North American Bison" said Walter Panzire, a Trustee for the Helmsley Charitable Trust.

"Custer State Park has played a key role in bison conservation for over a century. This one-of-a-kind center will allow the park to tell its story and educate future generations on the importance of the bison. I urge you to support the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation's 2020-2021 Custer State Park Bison Center fundraising campaign." Kristi Noem, Governor of South Dakota.

The SDPWF, a non-profit, independent 501(c)(3) support organization for GFP, is seeking $1 million in private and public donations for the total project budget of $5 million. Achieving this campaign goal will require support from private and public partners who share the dream and vision of the Bison Center.

There are three levels of giving that will be specifically recognized on a high-profile location within the Custer State Park Bison Center. These include Pioneer-$100,000 plus, Partners $50,000 to $99,999 and Friend $25,000 to $49,999. We welcome all support to this project and smaller donations can be made online at the SDPWF website, parkswildlifefoundation.org or contact Dick Brown at 605-941-3156 or Lisa Weyer at 605-773-4503.

PALISADES STATE PARK

Palisades is a small, 167-acre park located about 25 miles northeast of Sioux Falls near Garretson. Over 90,000 visitors each year are drawn to the park's pink Sioux quartzite rock formations along Split Rock Creek. The campground has more than a 98 percent occupancy rate and trails have seen an increasing number of users. The park also serves as a destination for multiple weddings and group events. With the increasing growth of the Sioux Falls metro area, these numbers are sure to keep growing as well. However, the small area and high use rate puts massive pressure on the park's infrastructure and natural resources.

Over the course of the fall of 2018, the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation (SDPWF) purchased and donated 267.5 acres of adjoining property to Palisades State Park. This more than doubled the current acreage of the park, bringing the new total to 434.5 acres.

In 2019, most of the new property was farmed or grazed as part of the purchase terms. This year gave the SD Game, Fish and Parks Department the opportunity to work with the local community to develop a comprehensive plan that utilizes the new land while being able to incorporate it seamlessly into the existing park.

In the fall of 2019, park staff were able to remove cedar trees from 10 acres of the property in preparation for native grass restoration. Some of the fences within the interior of the land have been removed for ease of navigation throughout the property and boundary signs have been ordered.

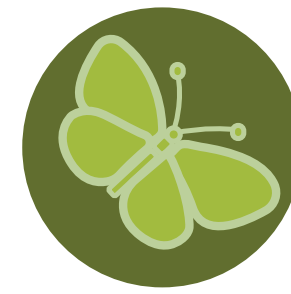

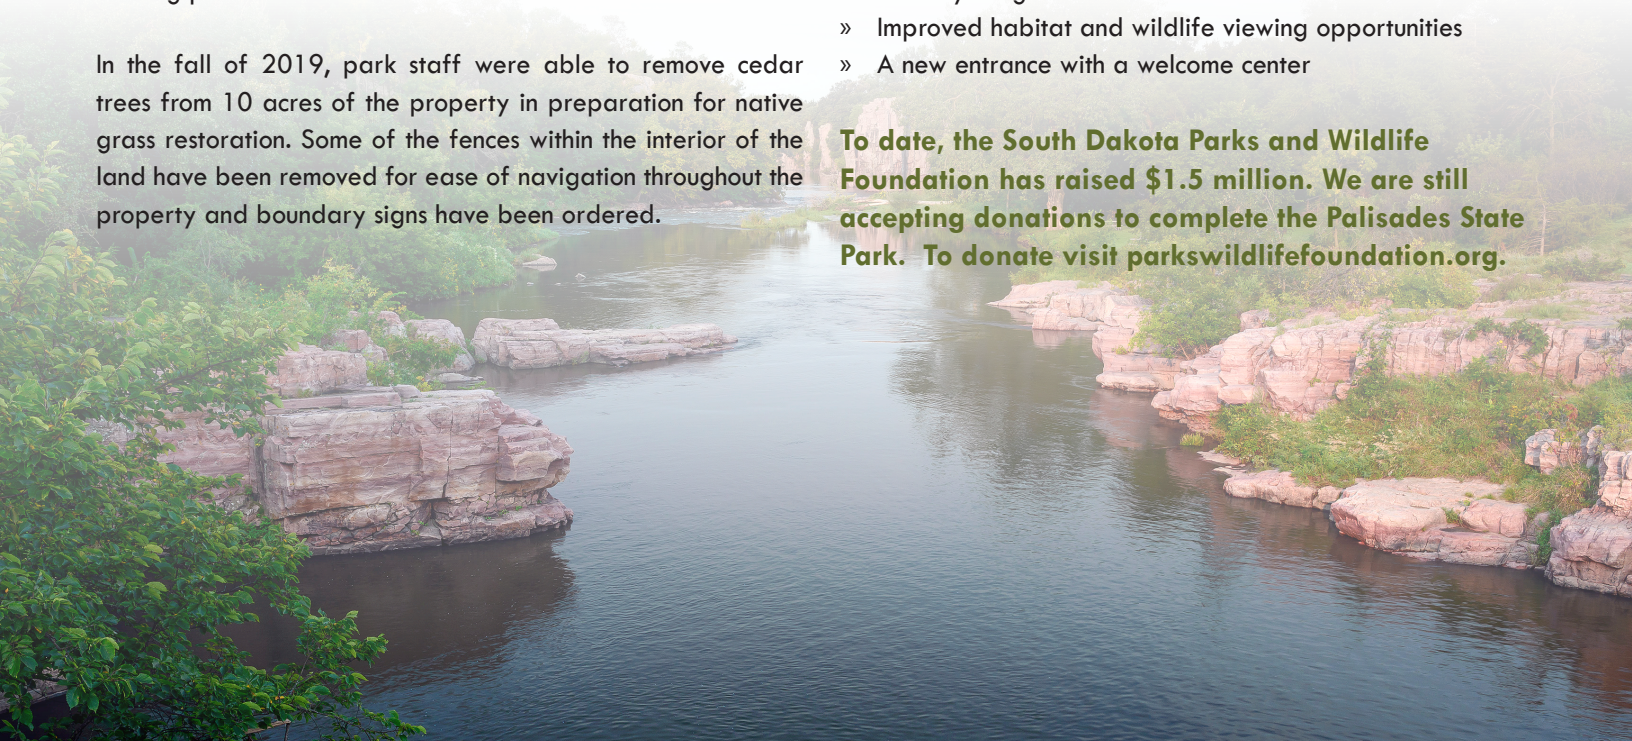

Development of the property will utilize a five-year phased planning approach, with an estimated cost of $8.3 million. Governor Noem has committed $500,000 for development and habitat on the new land. The South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation has agreed to raise $1.6 million in private funds to match the Governor's commitment.

In 2020, portions of the new property were planted into native grasses, pollinator plots and shelterbelts. The shelterbelts contain more than 35 different species of trees. Construction of the future entrance and campground road system began in the fall of 2020.

Going forward, portions of the property will continue to be developed in a phased approach with the final construction anticipated in spring of 2025. Development plans include the following:

- » Approximately 75 new campsites
- » Cabins and modern 2-bedroom cabins
- » Over 3 miles of hiking trails
- » Picnic and day use areas
- » Additional access points along Split Rock Creek
- » Water trail features like canoe/kayak launches
- » Archery range
- » Improved habitat and wildlife viewing opportunities
- » A new entrance with a welcome center

To date, the South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation has raised $1.5 million. We are still accepting donations to complete the Palisades State Park. To donate visit parkswildlifefoundation.org.

GOOD EARTH STATE PARK

Good Earth State Park at Blood Run has been changing for thousands of years. Starting with the ice age that shaped the land followed by the Oneota settlement in the 1500's. Later in the 1800's European settlers started arriving and farming the land. In the early 1900's archeologists began discovering the Oneota settlement. Most recently a National Historic Landmark, and to finally becoming a South Dakota state park in 2013. Good Earth State Park at Blood Run is used to adapting to the changes of the time. The grand opening for Good Earth State Park was May 19, 2017. Governor, Dennis Dugaard spoke, as well as tribal representatives, donors and department staff. The celebration revealed the state of the art, 11,000 square foot visitor center. The center features an exhibit hall complete with the park's famous history. There are world class displays from Split Rock Studios, complete with hands-on aspects, 3D dogs and travois, and even an eleven foot Native American lodge that visitors can enter and experience. Beautiful hand painted murals line the walls with vibrant colors of South Dakota landscape and the daily life scenes of the Native Americans who once lived here. Across the hall from the exhibit is a 40 person theater, which will showcase the 20 minute film created just for Good Earth State Park at Blood Run. The film depicts a grandfather sharing his story of Good Earth. With state of the art nature animation and mesmerizing South Dakota scenes, the film is awe-inspiring. Outside the visitor center, the historic and nature exhibits continue. Around the building there are informational displays leading you back in time. Out on the six and a half miles of trails, there are eight additional signs informing about the landscapes and environment of the park.

"Good Earth State Park is a cultural and historical landmark. It is dotted with artifacts and lands of archaeological importance; the landmark is the largest and most significant repository of Oneota culture and history in the world. The new visitor center enhances the educational experience to those who journey back in time understanding the significance of this great place. Visitors will also forget they are only minutes from downtown Sioux Falls." Kelly Hepler, former GFP Department Secretary.

The South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation raised over $8 million from private donors and grants to assist with the land acquisition and construction development of the Good Earth State Park and Visitor Center.

PETER NORBECK OUTDOOR EDUCATION CENTER

The Peter Norbeck Visitor Center first opened its doors in 1934 as the Custer State Park's museum. Built by the Civilian Conservation Corps from Camp Pine Creek, the building is a historic landmark. It has seen several renovations over the years, the first in 1970 when it was designated a visitor center, again in 1995, 2000 and most recently in 2017.

The latest reincarnation of the building is designed to honor the historic structure and the educational foundation. In planning meetings, it was debated on potential themes for the new center and ultimately settled on the idea of younger visitors learning and exploring about Custer State Park. The goal of the building is to show kids how to explore, how to get outside and get dirty and how to use their imagination.

The grand re-opening of the Peter Norbeck Outdoor Education Center was September 17, 2017. The South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation raised over $500,000 to renovate the Peter Norbeck Outdoor Education Center.

CUSTER STATE PARK VISITOR CENTER

The Custer State Park Visitor Center was dedicated on May 6, 2016. The facility offers an array of opportunities including a large interactive map, 20-foot-tall scale models of the Cathedral Spires and numerous displays depicting the natural world of Custer State Park. Throughout the building, displays showcase the park's iconic inhabitants, the buffalo. Additionally, the building includes a 100-seat theater where the new park film, narrated by actor Kevin Costner, immerses visitors into many aspects of the park.

The South Dakota Parks and Wildlife Foundation partnered with Game, Fish and Parks to make the visitor center a reality and fundraised over $3.2 million.

CUSTER STATE PARK HISTORY

Custer State Park is South Dakota's first and largest state park, its history dates back to 1897. Just eight years after South Dakota joined the union, Congress granted to the state, sections 16 and 36 in every township as school lands. South Dakota had difficulties attempting to administer the scattered blocks of state school lands within the Black Hills timberland. In 1906, negotiations opened to exchange the scattered lands for a solid block. In 1910, South Dakota relinquished all rights to 60,000+ acres of timberland within the Black Hills Forest Reserve in exchange for nearly 50,000 acres of forest in Custer County and about 12,000 acres in Harding County. Together, these two parcels were designated Custer State Forest in 1912. After action by the State Legislature, having been prompted by the urgings of "prairie statesman" Governor Peter Norbeck, Custer State Forest became Custer State Park.

DONATE TODAY

To make a donation to the South Dakota Parks & Wildlife Foundation visit our website at parkswildlifefoundation.org or contact the Executive Director, Lisa Weyer, at 605-773-4503 or Lisa.Weyer@state.sd.us

BE A FRIEND OF THE PARKS AND WILDLIFE FOUNDATION

With a minimum contribution of $50, donors can become a “Friend of Parks and Wildlife.” Your “Friends” contributions provide important funding that helps the Foundation raise funds used to support Game, Fish and Parks projects. “Friends” donors receive a complimentary gifts as outlined below.

These gifts are a small token of our appreciation for helping us accomplish our mission. However, the greatest benefit of being a “Friend” is becoming a stakeholder in the movement to conserve South Dakota’s great places. Become a “Friend of Parks and Wildlife” by donating to the Friends program online or print the “Become a Friend” form and mail your contribution today.

Thank you for being a Friend!
